General Group of Mats: Abbreviations and Key, Explanations of entries

The additional material may be wrapped around the grass strands or spiral bound. When the strands are wrapped, the sweet paper is cut into approximately 4 cm wide strips. The grass is placed at one end and rolled very much in the manner of a hand-rolled cigarette. The sweet paper comes in flat printed sheets; the individual strips are cut before loading onto the sweet wrapping machine at Cadburys and other sweet paper comes in rolls made of the narrow strips.

When the strands are spiral bound, narrow strips approximately 3 cm are cut. Several strands of Umtsala are held together to form a rod, this is carefully twisted whilst holding the sweet paper strip in the other hand, the strip is swiftly spiralled round the rod, the sweet paper ends are twisted to hold it in place.
