

A NOTE OF THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity in extending a note of thanks to the following people and institutions:

- The University of the Witwatersrand for allowing me the opportunity to study in this discipline and providing me with a bursary to do so
- Professor James Fisher for supervision of the research
- The Industrial Psychology staff for their input
- All my colleagues for their support and particularly Michelle Chazen for her input
- Both schools that granted me access to conduct this study
- Those who volunteered to participate in the research
- My family and partner for their ongoing support and encouragement

November 2005

I, BRENT HARLEY HERMAN do solemnly declare, in accordance with Rule G27, that this thesis is a construction of my own work. In addition, this thesis and all of its contents has not been used as a submission for any other degree or submitted at any other university.

BRENT HERMAN