

Acknowledgements

When I started the MEd course in 2004, I did not believe that I would be able to complete what seemed to be an enormous task at the time. I thank God for granting me the strength to finally complete my study. My supervisor was enormously helpful and guided me through the study. My friend Janine Murray and cousin, Gemini Cero also assisted me with the interviews. I could not have traveled to all the different places in Eldoradopark without their help.

The learners in the study astounded me with their friendliness and cooperation. They made this study possible and made the research process an enjoyable one.