

https://dspace.org/

A critical analysis of the discourses on Muslims in the media before and after the events of September 11, 2001

Ebrahim, Hanifa

2008-08-06T13:25:14Z
http://hdl.handle.net/10539/5270

Downloaded from a DSpace repository. https://dspace.org/

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Abstract…….……i

Declaration……...ii

Acknowledgements…….…....iii

Chapter One

Introduction

Background……...7

Research Aims……..9

Significance of this study……..,10

Chapter Two

Literature Review

Introduction……...12

Theoretical Framewoork……..12

Categorisation……13

The process of group differentiation and identification……14

Social comparison…….15

Social change…….16

Stereotyping a direct link to categorisation……17

Relevant Literature……...18

Discourse and ideology……..26

Chapter Three

Research methodology and procedure

Introduction……31

Philosophical issues related to the quantitative and the qualitative approaches to research……..31
Data collection and procedure……..34
Method of analysis of data……35
The depth hermeneutic approach…….36
Reflexivity……...37
Ethical considerations……...38

Chapter Four Results

Introduction……..41
The socio-historical analysis as a contextualisation of Muslims …….41
Brief history of Islam and Muslims in South Africa…….45
The socio-historical analysis of the media in South Africa……..48
The media under the apartheid government…….48
The emergence of the English Press……...49
Current Trends……..…50

Interpretation of discursive themes
Introduction……..52
Discourses……..…52
Theme 1: Muslims are fundamentalists……..…53
Theme 2: Muslims are violent…….54
Sub-theme 2a: Islam teaches violence……....55
Sub-theme 2b: Muslims are a force to be feared..59
Theme 3: "us" versus "them" and "Islam" versus the "west"……...61
Sub-theme 3a: Muslims are inhumane and uncivilised……64
Theme 4: Muslims or their versions of events cannot be trusted……..67

Minor discursive theme……..69

Islam subjugates women…….69

Comparison of perceptions of Muslims before and after September 11, 2001 in the various newspapers……71

Discussion…….72

Chapter Five

Conclusion

Introduction…….77

Central findings……..77

Recommendations……..78

Limitations……..79

Appendix A: Relevant articles, The Daily News

Appendix B: Relevant articles, Cape Argus

Appendix C: Relevant articles, The Star

Appendix D: Relevant articles, New York Times