

https://dspace.org/

"Street level bureaucrats-" the role of labour inspectors in enforcing decent work.

Ngoepe, Kholofelo Ruth

2010-03-04T07:20:56Z
http://hdl.handle.net/10539/7610

Downloaded from a DSpace repository. https://dspace.org/

Table of contents

Acknowledgements ……i
Abbreviations ……iii
Abstract …… iv

Chapter One: Introduction …… 1

Chapter Two: The role of enforcement in implementation and regulations of labour law……..…….. 7
2.1 Introduction …… 7
2.2 Theoretical framework …….. 8
2.3 Design, monitoring and enforcement of labour laws …… 12
2.3.1 What is labour regulation? …… .. 12
2.3.2 Policy design: “a science in analyzing the costs and impacts of different Options” …….. 13
2.3.3 Implementation perspectives: “bottom-up” or “top-down” ……. 15
2.4 Bureaucracy matters …….. 16
2.5 Labour court ……. 19
2.5.1 Labour court procedures ……. 20
2.5.2 Backlogs in labour court ……. 21
2.6 Recruiting and retaining skilled public service workers …….. 22
2.6.1 Scarce and critical skills in the legal profession ……23
2.7 “A rights based approach to labour regulation: Decent work and ‘fair labour practices’ ……. 28
2.8 Conclusion …….. 31

Chapter three: Methodology …… 32
3.1 Introduction …….. 32
3.2 Participant observation approach ……. 33

3.3 In-depth interviews …… 36
3.4 Case study approach: Why the Private Security Sector? ……. 38
3.5 Sampling …….. 39
3.6 Access …….. 39
3.7 Ethical issues …… 40

Chapter four: A new labour (industrial) relations regime …….. 42
4.1 Introduction …… 42
4.2 "The specificity of South Africa's past" …… 43
4.3 First phase: colonial conquest …… 43
4.4 Second phase: rise of mining and origins of dualism …… 45
4.5 Third phase ……. 48
4.6 Fourth phase ……... 48
4.7 A new vision of work and industrial relations …… 50
4.8 NEDLAC ……. 52
4.9 Trade unions as ambassadors of decent work …….. 54
4.10 Regulated flexibility and the role of collective bargaining …… 55
4.11Conclusion: link between labour inspections and the industrial relations Regime…… 57

Chapter five: The Department of Labour's inspections …… 58
5.1 "Batho-pele": One-stop-inspection services …….. 58
5.2 Profile of inspectors …… 60
5.3 Inspection procedures: from complaint to investigation ……. 61
5.4 Epitome of an inspector …… 64
5.5 Resources …….. 71
5.6 Electronic inspections: role of technology in inspections ……. 72
5.7 Assault cases of inspectors an obstruction ……. 75
5.8 Support …….. 78
5.9 Targets? …….. 81
5.10 Sanctions: "a slap on the wrist" …….. 83

5.11 Conclusion …….. 85
Chapter six: Mediations …… 86
6.1 Introduction …… 86.
6.2 Legal experts versus labour inspectors …….. 87
6.3 Department of Labour jurisdiction misunderstood ……. 90
6.4 A good mediation meeting …….. 91

Chapter seven: Blitz Inspections of the Private Security Sector ..……. 95
7.1 Introduction ……. 95
7.2 The PSI is globalised….a definite challenge …….. 96
7.3 The PSI in South Africa …….. 97
7.4 Procedures followed by inspectors during Blitz inspections …….. 101
7.5 Problems during blitz …….. 102
7.6 Preparation (or lack of) for blitz inspections ……. 107

Chapter eight: Conclusion, summary and recommendations ……. 109
8.1 Theoretical conclusions …… 110
8.2 Descriptive conclusions …… 112
8.3 Recommendations: Decent work for all …….. 110

Bibliography
Appendix A: Questionnaire for labour inspectors
Appendix B: Questionnaire for team leaders
Appendix C: Structure and process of labour laws