

APPENDIX A: LETTER TO THE ORGANISATION

April 2010

Dear Sir/Madam

My name is Juraida Latif and I am a postgraduate student at the University of the Witwatersrand. I am conducting a research study in partial fulfilment of my Masters degree in Industrial Psychology. I request permission to carry out my study in this call centre.

My area of research is to investigate the relationship between perceptions of performance monitoring characteristics on overall life satisfaction moderated by hardiness among call centre employees. It is hoped that through this research, I will be able to determine whether or not performance monitoring in a call centre environment has an effect on life satisfaction and whether the personality difference of hardiness serves as a moderator in this relationship.

I guarantee that my research will not advantage or disadvantage any employee in any way nor will it disrupt any organisational processes. Participation in this study will entail completing a questionnaire. All participants will remain anonymous and information gathered will be confidential. This will be achieved by ensuring that while questions are asked about employee's personal circumstances, no identifying information, such as their name or I.D. number, is asked for, and as such they will remain anonymous. Their completed questionnaire will not be seen by any person in this organisation at any time, and will only be processed by myself or a research assistant from the university. Their responses will only be looked at in relation to all others responses and not individually. This means that feedback that will be given to the organisation and the participants will be in the form of group responses and not individual responses.

Your cooperation will be deeply appreciated and will greatly impact in contributing to a larger body of knowledge on performance monitoring, hardiness and life satisfaction. This will make a great difference for the field of psychology as the research in the field of call centres is relatively recent and a lot still needs to be learnt.

Should you have any questions or require further information about the study and its implications, I can be contacted on 082-589-8434 or e-mailed at juraida.1@hotmail.com.

Many thanks

Juraida Latif

APPENDIX C- QUESTIONNAIRE USED IN THIS STUDY

April 2007

Dear Sir/Madam

My name is Juraida Latif and I am a postgraduate student at the University of the Witwatersrand. I am conducting a research study in partial fulfilment of my Masters degree in Industrial Psychology.

My area of research is to investigate the relationship between perceptions of performance monitoring characteristics on overall life satisfaction moderated by the personality trait of hardiness in a call centre. We live in a very fast paced and demanding society and our jobs usually have an impact on our general lives. It is hoped that through this research, I will be able to determine whether or not performance monitoring in a call centre environment has an effect on life satisfaction and whether the personality difference of hardiness serves as a moderator in this relationship.

I would like to invite you to participate in this study. Participation in this study will entail completing the attached questionnaire. Participation is voluntary, and no employee will be advantaged or disadvantaged in any way for choosing to complete or not complete the questionnaire. While questions are asked about your personal circumstances, no identifying information, such as your name or I.D. number, is asked for, and as such you will remain anonymous. Your completed questionnaire will not be seen by any person in this organisation at any time, and will only be processed by myself or a research assistant from the university. Your responses will only be looked at in relation to all others responses. This means that feedback that will be given to the organisation will be in the form of group responses and not individual responses.

If you choose to participate in the study, please complete the attached please complete the attached questionnaire as carefully and honestly as possible. Once you have answered the questions, place the questionnaire in the envelope provided and deposit it in the sealed box I have provided. I will collect the questionnaires from the box at regular intervals. This will ensure that no one will have access to the completed questionnaires, and will ensure your confidentiality. If you do return your questionnaire, this will be considered consent to participate in the study.

Your participation in this study will be greatly appreciated. This research will contribute to a larger body of knowledge on electronic performance monitoring, hardiness and life satisfaction.

Should you have any queries regarding this study, I can be contacted on 082-589-8434 or e-mailed at juraida_1@hotmail.com. If you require assistance or feel troubled by the raised topic please contact your company's EAP department or lifeline.

Kind Regards

Juraida Latif
