

Table of Contents

Abstract	ii
Declaration.....	iii
Dedication.....	iv
Acknowledgements.....	v
Chapter 1: The Trajectory of Life Writing in ‘a Land Divided’	1
Background.....	1
The machinery of autobiography: a contextual meaning.....	7
Strategic uses of narrative.....	9
Aim.....	9
Rationale.....	11
Thematic concerns.....	16
Review of Literature related to primary texts.....	18
Romanticism and nostalgia: Lawrence Vambe’s memoirs as history	19
Patronage of authorship, collusion and complicity	21
Narcissism and historical recurrence: the paradox of self-representation in autobiographies	24
Competing for narrative space: Whiteness and the liberation struggle in Zimbabwe	26
Subjective criticism of subjective narratives: views on Nkomo and Mhanda	28
Theoretical framework.....	31
The self and other	31
Narrative Identity	33
Theory of autobiographical strategy	38
Methodology.....	40
Content analysis	40
Chapter Delineation.....	41
Chapter 2	46
Writing against the official grain: authenticating strategies in Lawrence Vambe’s memoirs	46
Introduction.....	46
Authenticating strategies in An Ill-fated People and From Rhodesia to Zimbabwe	48

Referentiality: White voices/mediation and narrative power.....	49
Nostalgia and self-authentication.....	57
Romanticism, participation observation and self-authentication.....	68
Conclusion.....	77
Chapter 3.....	80
Patronage of authorship in A Lifetime of Struggle and At the Deep End.....	80
Introduction.....	80
Patronage, authorship and self-archiving in A lifetime of struggle and At the Deep End	82
Hero by birth: hoisting the patron.....	87
When writer turns patron: hosting the writer.....	93
Setting the record straight: Tsvangirai's At the Deep End	99
A childhood grounded in politics.....	102
No better than average.....	105
Political messiah.....	108
Conclusion.....	113
Chapter 4.....	115
Narcissistic rage and historical recurrence in Against the Grain and The Great Betrayal.....	115
Introduction.....	115
The memoir as a form of corrective programming: Theorising narcissistic rage and historical recurrence.....	118
Taught by the best, trained by the best: Nyarota's egotistic attitude of entitlement.....	123
Which one of you is Geoffrey Nyarota?.....	127
Ian Smith: On the desirability of good leadership.....	133
The kiss of Judas: self-righteous anger of a narcissist in Smith's memoir.....	136
Conclusion.....	147
Chapter 5.....	149
Re-constructing the narrative of the liberation struggle in Zimbabwe: Through the Darkness as a self-empowering and competing narrative.....	149
Introduction.....	149

More lasting than bronze.....	151
Converging voices: authenticating the role played by the Todd family in the struggle.....	158
Conclusion.....	169
Chapter 6.....	171
Reconstructing the self: hauntology and spectrality in Nkomo and Mhanda's memoirs.....	171
Introduction.....	171
Political debris: ruin and ruination of Nkomo and Mhanda.....	172
Understanding hauntology and spectrality in Nkomo and Mhanda's memoirs.....	174
No Respite for Nkomo: From Gonakudzingwa to Gukurahundi.....	175
On refusal to fall: spectres of Nkomo.....	180
Reconstructing the self and reclaiming the struggle: the ghost of Mhanda's memoir Memories of a freedom fighter	184
Disqualified but never destroyed.....	187
Conclusion.....	190
Chapter 7.....	192
Transforming Lives lived to Lives told.....	192
Conclusion.....	192
Works Cited.....	201