

Educating Audiologists in South Africa:
Internationally Recognized Specialists or Locally Relevant Generalists?

A pilot study investigating the perceived adequacy of undergraduate audiology programmes in South Africa and the need for educational reform.

A report on a study project presented to

The Discipline of Speech Pathology and Audiology
School of Human and Community Development
Faculty of Humanities
University of the Witwatersrand

In partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree M.A. Audiology by Coursework

By

KATHLEEN WEMMER

December, 2007

DECLARATION

I, Kathleen Wemmer declare that this research report is my unaided work. It is submitted as part of the requirements for the degree of Master of Arts (Audiology) by Coursework at the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg. It has not been submitted for any other degree or examination at any other university.

Signed:

10 December 2007

*This work is dedicated to the memory
of my precious father, who first raised the idea of my working with "deaf children"
and who believed that to be truly happy, one's vocation should also be a hobby.
You always took an interest in my passions and always believed in me.
I will love you forever...*

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

"I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." Phillipians 4:13 (NIV)

I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to the following people:

Heila Jordan, for planting the seed of the topic and seeing me through the research process. Thank you for your unwavering patience.

Peter Fridjhon, for his ability to make complex statistical concepts clear, invaluable advice, interesting stories and wonderful sense of humour.

The Discipline of Speech Pathology and Audiology at the University of the Witwatersrand who provided financial support for this project and Eugenius Senanoa, for assistance with the statistical analysis.

Hannelie Dippenaar, for her hours of help with the layout of the questionnaire.

The participants, who took time out of their busy schedules to complete the questionnaire.

Prof. Eleanor Ross, for her interest in my career and support for the profession of audiology.

Erika Meiring, for her passion for audiology, friendship and prayers.

Hazel Bonaretti, Colette Marett, Natasja Aioldi, Lauren Berkowitz and Debbie Lima, for their friendship, encouragement and interest in this project.

Zakkiya Laher, Tracy-Ann Betts, Jannet Corbishley, Azra Dada, Sairah Smith, Estee Rau, Jocelyn Ho, Katherine Gautschi, Elizabeth Smith, Natasha Desai, Tanya Durrant, Michelle Glanvill, Carol Chapman, Andrea Callichio, Mubina Kahn and Amisha Kanji, for reminding me of my love for the profession.

Marion Drew for always providing an alternate view on the world.

My family, whose gentle nagging did help in the end.