

https://dspace.org/

Registered nurses' handover practices in emergency care units

Kaufrinder, Anthony Pierre

2011-04-06
http://hdl.handle.net/10539/9383

Downloaded from a DSpace repository. https://dspace.org/

TABLE OF FIGURES AND TABLES

Table 3.4.1	Gender of the Registered Nurses	39
Table 3.4.2	Basic Nursing Qualification	39
Table 3.4.3	Emergency Care Unit Employment Status	40
Table 3.4.4	Years of Working Experience within Emergency Care Units	41
Table 4.1	Basic Nursing Qualification of Registered Nurses	49
Table 4.2	Post Basic Nursing Qualifications and Experience	50
Table 4.3	Years of Working Experience within Emergency Care Units	51
Table 4.4	Years of Experience within Emergency Care Units	52
Table 4.5	Nurses Employment Status in Emergency Care Unit	54
Table 4.6	Special vs. Non-specialist Nurses ER Employment Status	54
Table 4.7	Nurses Formal Training Regarding Handover Practices	55
Table 4.8	Current Patient Handover Documentation	58
Table 4.9	Primary Handover in Emergency Care Units	59
Table 4.10	Specialist vs. Non-specialist Nurses Primary Handover	60
Table 4.11	Repetition of the Handover in Emergency Care Units	62
Table 4.12	Persons to Whom the RN Needed to Repeat the Handover	64
Table 4.13	Specialists versus Non-Specialist RN Handover Repetition	65
Table 4.14	Information Currently Contained in Handover Practices	66
Table 4.15	Registered Nurses Ranking of the Handover Sequence	67
Table 4.16	Specialist Nurses Ranking of the Handover Procedure	69
Table 4.17	ER Experienced Nurses Itemized Handover Ranking	70
Table 4.18	Non-Specialist Nurses Itemized Handover Ranking	71
Table 5.1	Handover Acronym Pocket Card	104

Figure 4.1 Ratio of Male vs. Female Registered Nurses 46

Figure 4.2 Registered Nurses' Basic Training 47

Figure 4.3 RN's Years of Working Experience within Emergency Units 51