

https://dspace.org/

Brother Tarantino in the mosque: An analysis of the cultural and political instrumentality of satire in "The Lizard" (2004)

Tavernaro-Haidarian, Leyla

2008-12-02T13:17:16Z
http://hdl.handle.net/10539/5862

Downloaded from a DSpace repository. https://dspace.org/

CONTENTS

Title Page	i
Abstract	ii
Declaration	iii
Dedication	iv
Acknowledgments	v
Introduction	1
Chapter one: Comedy and Satire in an Iranian Film	14
Breaking Taboos: A film jumps out of line	14
Laughing Secretly: The possibilities of comedy	30
Criticizing Mullahs: Satire reveals	46
Chapter two: Parody and Masquerade	50
Parody: Difference at the heart of similarity	50
Masquerade: Anything goes	74
Chapter three: The Transgressive Utopian Space	90
Space of Power and Possibility	90
Utopian Images and Universal Desires	95
Transgressive Utopianism: The political power of ‘some place else’	98
Conclusion	102
Appendix: Filmography	I
Bibliography	VII