A heartfelt thank you to my supervisor, Ms Aline Ferreira-Correia for her guidance and patience throughout this research endeavour and report writing process. Also a thank you to my research partner, Ms Otsile Motlhabane who is also a registered M.A. student in the Psychology department (2016). She has been involved with the data collection for this research study and will share the data we have gathered for her own research. It has been an honour to share this journey with her.
