

https://dspace.org/

Forced relocation from informal settlements to the periphery and effects on livelihoods: a case of Diepsloot, Johannesburg

Ngcobo, Sibonelo Phiwokwakhe

2015-05-14
http://hdl.handle.net/10539/17749

Downloaded from a DSpace repository. https://dspace.org/

TABLE OF CONTENTS

DECLARATION…… 1

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT…….. 2

ABSTRACT…… 3

CHAPTER ONE

1.0 Introduction…… 5

1.1 Purpose of the study…… 7

1.2 Rationale and problem statement……. 8

1.3 Research question…….. 9

1.4 Hypothesis…… 9

1.5 Review of related literature…… 10

1.6 Livelihood analytical framework…… 10

1.7 Research method…… 12

1.8 Limitations of the study…….. 15

1.9 Conclusion……... 15

CHAPTER TWO: REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

2.0 Introduction…… 16

2.1 History of housing location in South Africa……... 16

2.2 Overview of the post-apartheid legislative framework…… 18

2.3 Implementation of the housing policy and effects on livelihoods. 20

2.4 Causes of informal settlements…….. 23

2.5 Factors responsible for relocation of informal settlements……. 24

2.6 Poverty and sustainable livelihoods…….. 27

2.7 Household coping strategies…… 31

2.8 Household livelihood outcomes…….. 34

2.9 Role of tenure in livelihood strategies…….. 35

2.10 Forms of housing tenure……. 37

2.11 Impacts of regulatory frameworks on livelihoods…… 39

2.12 Conclusion……. 41

CHAPTER THREE: TRANSPORTATION AND LIVELIHOODS

3.0 Introduction…… 42

3.1 Low income households' transport expenditure……. 43

3.2 Modes of transport……... 46

3.3 Travel durations……... 48

3.4 Conclusion…… 49

CHAPTER FOUR: FINDINGS OF THE STUDY

4.0 Introduction…….. 50

4.1 Diepsloot community profile……. 51

4.2 Alexandra community profile…… 55

4.3 Access to livelihood assets…….. 56

4.4 Modes and cost of transport before and after relocation…… 65

4.5 Travel durations before and after relocation……. 67

4.6 Livelihood strategies…….. 68

4.7 Conclusion…….. 72

CHAPTER FIVE: ANALYSES

5.0 Introduction……. 73

5.1 Financial capital……. 73

5.2 Human capital…… 75

5.3 Physical capital…….. 76

5.4 Social capital…….. 77

5.5 Natural capital……. 78

5.6 Travel durations and modes of transport…….. 78

5.7 Conclusion…… 79

CHAPTER SIX: POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS AND GENERAL CONCLUSIONS

6.0 Introduction…… 81

6.1 Policy recommendations……. 82

6.2 General conclusions……... 84

LIST OF REFERENCES…….. 85

APPENDIX: SURVEY QUESTIONNAIRE