

https://dspace.org/

The outer edge: an urban promatorium

Wecke, Michelle

2009-09-16T11:35:19Z
http://hdl.handle.net/10539/7277

Downloaded from a DSpace repository. https://dspace.org/

The Outer Edge:
An Urban Promatorium

Michelle Wecke

THE OUTER EDGE:
AN URBAN PROMATORIUM

Michelle Wecke

A design Project submitted to the Faculty on Engineering and the built environment, University of the Witwatersrand, in fulfillment of the requirements of the degree of Masters of Architecture Professional)

Johannesburg 2008

I, Michelle Wecke, am a student registered for the course Masters of Architecture (Professional) in the year 2008. I hereby declare the following:

I am aware that plagiarism (the use of someone else's work without permission and/or without acknowledging the original sources) is wrong. I confirm that the work submitted for assessment for the above course is my own unaided work except where I have stated explicitly otherwise. I have allowed the required conventions in referencing thoughts, ideas, and visual materials of others. For this purpose, I have referred to the Graduate School of Engineering and the Built Environment style guide. I understand that the University may take disciplinary action against me if there is belief that this is not my unaided work or that I have failed to acknowledge the source of the ideas or words in my work.

Signature: _____ Date: _____

Acknowledgements

To my lecturers and mentors

Thank you for always steering me down the right path

To my friends

Thank you for understanding that I would not always be there for the parties, the movies or the coffee

To my family and especially to my parents

Thank you for all your hard work in keeping me going and all your support during my numerous breakdowns

Contents

The meat that makes the thesis

Introduction
the beginning 1

The relationship of the cemetery to the cities/towns
The evolution of the cemetery from past, to present and into the future

History
how it was 3

Present
how it is 4

Future
how it may become 4

The Inner City Cemetery
how much land we need to bury the dead 6

How to dispose of a human cadaver
From the standard to the outlandish to the outlawed 14

Cemetery and Architecture
The city of the dead

Culture and the rituals of death
The event of dying 20

Ritual
The prescribed order of grief 26

The cultural and religious difference
The prescribed order handed down by faith and culture giving guide lines in how to deal with death 28

Materiality and time
Materials that age or are ageless 32

Light
Bright vs dark … it's influence on emotion 32

Sight
Visual penetration of materials 33

Sound
Spaces traced by the ear 33

Touch
Helps us see texture 33

Case studies
Discovering the sacred and the route through it 35

Igualada Cemetery Park
Carved space 36

Woodland Crematorium
Building subordinate to nature 39

Simons Town Naval Cemetery
Emulating concepts of nature and capturing it's views 42

The Chapel of Light
Creating the contextual concept 44

The Site
Selecting the perfect site 48

Cemetery and Scale
The cemetery scaled in reference to s know place 49

West Park Cemetery
Creating a face for the entrance 50

Braamfontein Cemetery
The severed connection 51

Brixton Cemetery
Connecting the mourners and the pedestrian activity 52

Mapping
Understanding the complex site and what I want to achieve 53

Designing the Promatorium
One baby step at a time

Design development
The ideas start to brew 66

The first design attempt
The first errors and first unearthing/breakthrough 70

Concept sketches
Back to the drawing board 71

The next design attempt
More errors and dicoveries 72

Concept sketches
Back to the drawing board again 73

The final design
After many hours of blood sweat and tears, the Promatorium emerges 74

References
The materials that lead to the inspiration 89

