

The Outer Edge: An Urban Promatorium

Michelle Wecke

THE OUTER EDGE: AN URBAN PROMATORIUM

Michelle Wecke

A design Project submitted to the Faculty on Engineering and the built environment, University of the Witwatersrand, in fulfillment of the requirements of the degree of Masters of Architecture Professional)

Johannesburg 2008

I, Michelle Wecke, am a student registered for the course Masters of Architecture (Professional) in the year 2008. I hereby declare the following:

I am aware that plagiarism (the use of someone else's work without permission and/or without acknowledging the original sources) is wrong. I confirm that the work submitted for assessment for the above course is my own unaided work except where I have stated explicitly otherwise. I have allowed the required conventions in referencing thoughts, ideas, and visual materials of others. For this purpose, I have referred to the Graduate School of Engineering and the Built Environment style guide. I understand that the University may take disciplinary action against me if there is belief that this is not my unaided work or that I have failed to acknowledge the source of the ideas or words in my work.

Signature: _____

Date: _____

Acknowledgements

To my lecturers and mentors

Thank you for always steering me down the right path

To my friends

Thank you for understanding that I would not always be there for the parties, the movies or the coffee

To my family and especially to my parents

Thank you for all your hard work in keeping me going and all your support during my numerous breakdowns

Contents

The meat that makes the thesis

Introduction the beginning	1
The relationship of the cemetery to the cities/towns The evolution of the cemetery from past, to present and into the future
History how it was	3
Present how it is	4
Future how it may become	4
The Inner City Cemetery how much land we need to bury the dead	6
How to dispose of a human cadaver From the standard to the outlandish to the outlawed	14
Cemetery and Architecture The city of the dead
Culture and the rituals of death The event of dying	20
Ritual The prescribed order of grief	26
The cultural and religious difference The prescribed order handed down by faith and culture giving guide lines in how to deal with death	28
Materiality and time Materials that age or are ageless	32
Light Bright vs dark ... it's influence on emotion	32
Sight Visual penetration of materials	33
Sound Spaces traced by the ear	33
Touch Helps us see texture	33

Case studies	35
Discovering the sacred and the route through it
Igualada Cemetery Park	36
Carved space
Woodland Crematorium	39
Building subordinate to nature
Simons Town Naval Cemetery	42
Emulating concepts of nature and capturing it's views
The Chapel of Light	44
Creating the contextual concept
The Site	48
Selecting the perfect site
Cemetery and Scale	49
The cemetery scaled in reference to s know place
West Park Cemetery	50
Creating a face for the entrance
Braamfontein Cemetery	51
The severed connection
Brixton Cemetery	52
Connecting the mourners and the pedestrian activity
Mapping	53
Understanding the complex site and what I want to achieve
Designing the Promatorium
One baby step at a time
Design development	66
The ideas start to brew
The first design attempt	70
The first errors and first unearthing/breakthrough
Concept sketches	71
Back to the drawing board
The next design attempt	72
More errors and dicoveries
Concept sketches	73
Back to the drawing board again
The final design	74
After many hours of blood sweat and tears, the Promatorium emerges
References	89
The materials that lead to the inspiration

