XIII. ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

My thanks are due to Professor J. Phillips in whose department this work was carried out, and to Mrs. M. Moss of the Department of Botany, at whose suggestion this survey was undertaken, and who kindly placed at my disposal the manuscript of the late Professor C.E. Moss on the genus Hypoxis. I am indebted to Miss A.V. Duthie of the University of Stellenbosch for the loan of certain literature, to Mr. S. Garside, of the Department of Botany, Bedford College, London, for his advice and reprints; also to the Directors of the following herbaria for the use of their specimens of Hypoxis:

The Albany Museum,
The Bolus Herbarium,
The Fauresmith Herbarium,
The Natal Museum,
The National Herbarium,
The O.F.S. University College,
The Stellenbosch University Herbarium,
The Transvaal Museum.

To Mr. W. Paff and the staff of the University Photographic Department I extend my grateful thanks for their kind co-operation in photographing specimens.
