ORIENTATIONS : PLANNING OF SPACES

ESTABLISHING A STRONG FOCAL POINT

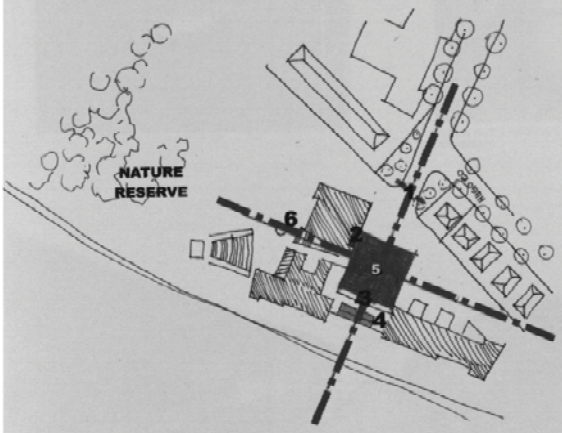

It was important to create a central point of arrival/ gathering space. The position of the focal point must be clear. Lining up the central focal point (in this case a water feature) immediately indicated to the user, as soon as he/she enters, where to go. this results in quick orientation eliminating confusion.

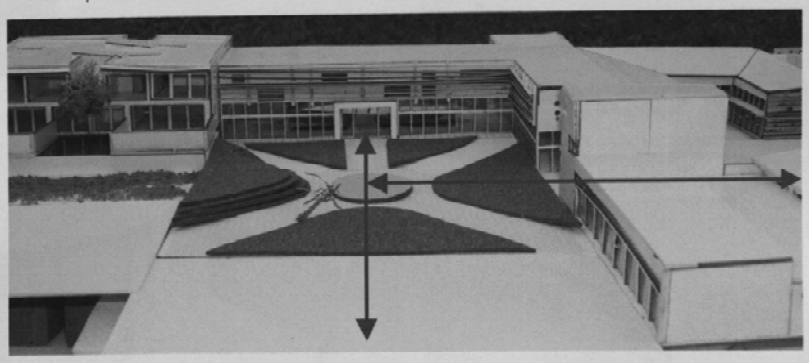

once one arrives at the central focal point one would be able to identify both entrances to the buildings, aswell as the route to the public park space at the bottom of the site(the nature reserve
