ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research report would not have been possible without the following people:

- My grandparents and parents. Thank you for motivating me to study and encouraging me to keep going even when I did not believe I could go any further. I am blessed to have you.

- My supervisor, Prof Felix Maringe. The unfailing support, guidance and supervision throughout the years have been a mainstay. Thank you for helping me to put the pieces back together. I am, forever, grateful.

- My partner, Gary, your love has been my strength. Thank you for being so understanding and patient. I really love you (4 words).
