

Acknowledgments

Many thanks to my supervisor, Carol Long, for dedicating her time and energy into this project. Her endless patience, good humour and quiet motivation kept me sane through this rollercoaster experience. I would like to thank my husband and partner, Zubair, for encouraging me to pursue this degree and for holding up a mirror to the endless possibilities he sees in me. Special acknowledgment to my mother, without whom my appreciation for motherhood and mothering would be taken for granted. I also wish to thank my father, who unconditionally supports my continued education and who is always proud of me. To my parents-in-law, I appreciate your support and encouragement in helping me stay focused in this endeavour. Finally, thank you to the mothers in this study who kindly allowed me into their worlds and opened my eyes to their unique yet shared experiences.
