

Youth Politics: The Political Role of AZANYU in the Struggle for Liberation: The Case of AZANYU Tembisa branch, 1980s to 1996.

Tshepo Cyril Moloji

A research report submitted to the Graduate School for the Humanities and Social Sciences, University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Master of Arts.

Johannesburg, 2005

Abstract

The overriding theme of this research report is ‘youth politics’ in South Africa in the 1980s and early 1990s. The report explores the role played by the Africanist youth organization, the Azanian National Youth Unity (AZANYU), in the struggle for liberation. It further examines its response to the transition period which took place in the country in the early 1990s.

The report explores in particular the role played by the AZANYU Tembisa branch in the struggle. It contends that this branch adopted a militaristic approach in its fight for liberation. And this prohibited it from participating in the local politics mounted by the Tembisa residents. Instead it focused on national politics. The report further illustrates how youth politics were introduced and sustained in Tembisa over a period of time from the early 1970s.

Declaration

I declare that this research report is my unaided work. It is submitted for the degree of Master of Arts in the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg. It has not been submitted before for any other degree or examination in any other university.

Tshepo Cyril Moloji

----- day of -----, 2005

Dedication

This research report is dedicated to all the youth of South Africa who took a stand and said 'No to Apartheid'.

Acknowledgments

The completion of this research report would not have been possible without the assistance, support, encouragement, criticism and intellectual guidance of numerous individuals. First, I would particularly like to express my deepest gratitude to my supervisor and mentor, Prof. Phil Bonner, who patiently and unselfishly provided me with intellectual guidance in the course of my field work, and later in the writing phase of the report. I am also thankful to him for forcing my hand to search for more information on my topic when I had lost hope that I would uncover any. Prof. thank you for teaching me never to loose hope!

I am also grateful to Prof. Bonner for introducing me to History Workshop. My involvement with History Workshop, through projects like ‘Alexandra Social History’ and South African Democracy Education Trust (SADET) has helped to sharpen my research skills. I benefited immensely from working for History Workshop.

Second I would like thank Noor Nieftagodien and Sello Mathabatha for their constant encouragement. I sincerely appreciate their input in chapter three of the report. Sello’s insightful understanding of the politics of the Pan Africanist Congress changed my narrow view of the organization. I am particularly thankful for his assistance in structuring the report. I am deeply grateful to Noor’s comments at the presentation of my proposal for this study. I also appreciate the encouragement of other members of the University of the Witwatersrand’s community, especially Prof. Deborah Posel, Dr Sakhele Buhlungu, Dr Windsor Leroke, Nicole Ulrich and Katie Mooney.

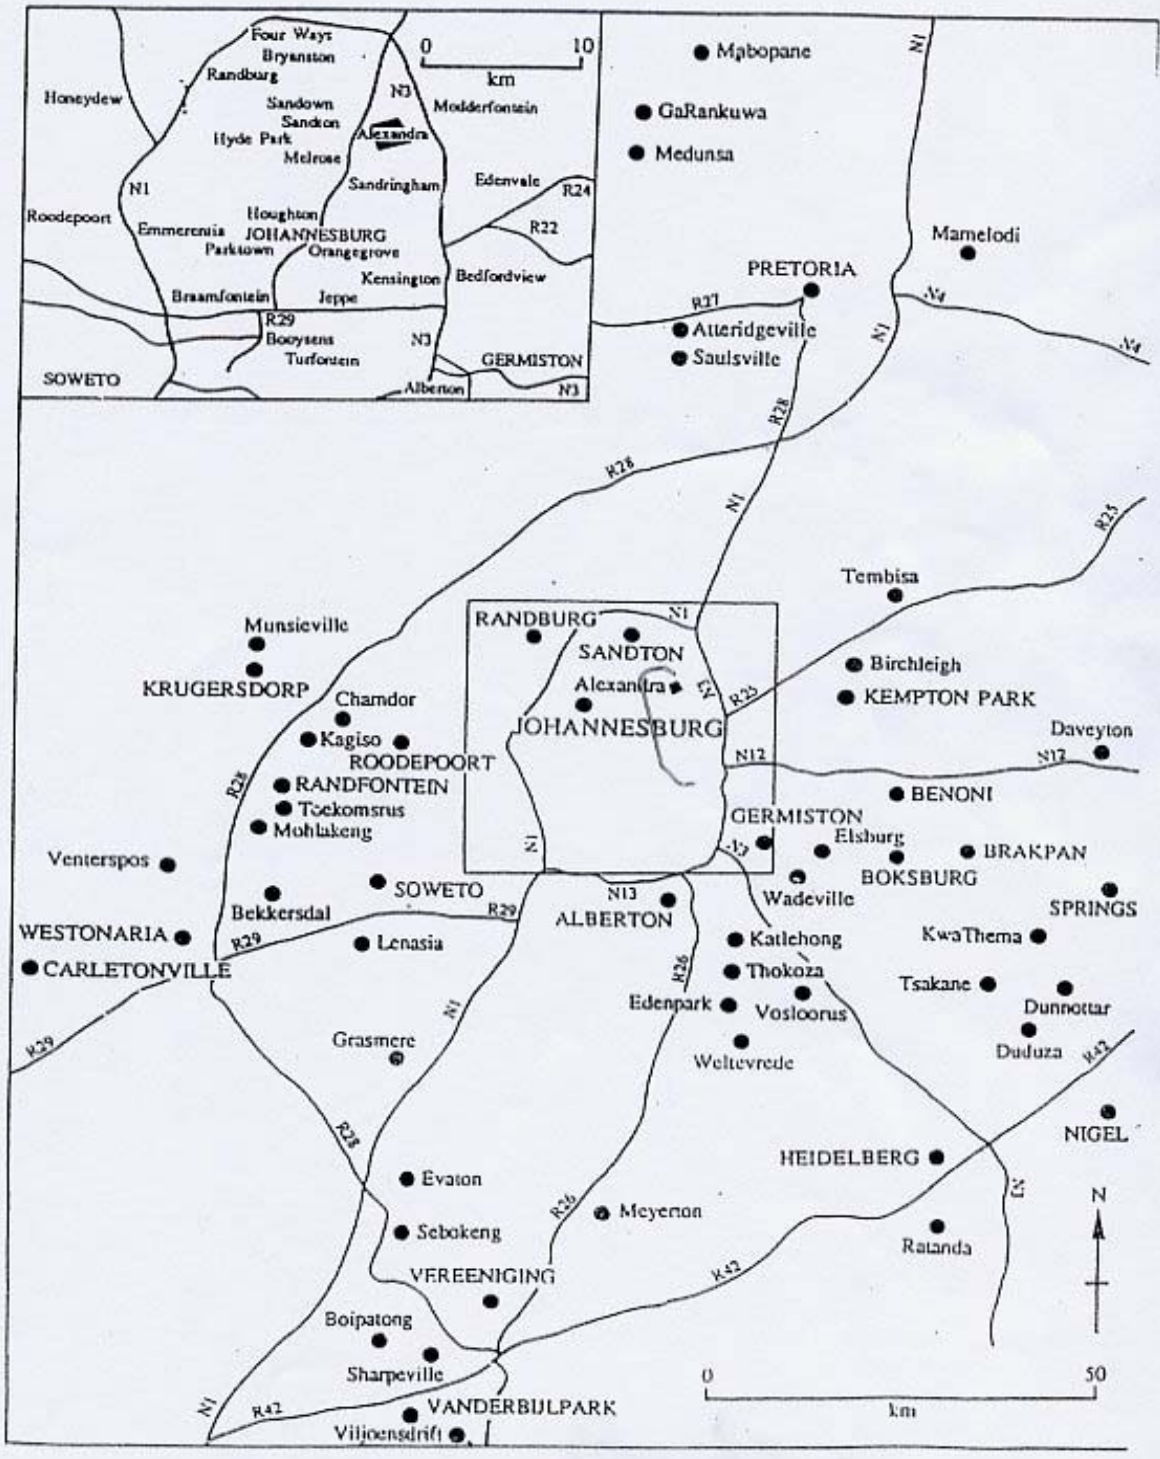

I am deeply indebted to my colleagues at Robben Island Museum Mayibuye Archives for their support and encouragement. In particular I would like to thank Simphiwe Yako for drawing my attention to the PAC’s collection. Throughout my employment at the Mayibuye Archives I enjoyed the intellectual support from Zolile “Bra Z” Mvunelo, Andre Mohammed, Mariki Victor and Richard Whiteing. My stay on Robben Island was made easier by my “extended family” who supported me in many ways. I am especially grateful to Sis’ Nosisi Lusufu, Gaby Cheminais, Bra Cyril, Eugene Mokgoasi, Pheneas

Poho, Patrick “Tambira” Matanjana, and Aunt Sarah. I am deeply grateful to Dini Sobukwe for his interest in my study. His comments and contacts were invaluable. I thank him for introducing me to Ali Hlongwane.

I am most thankful to the Wits University Library staff, especially the Historical and Literary Papers section staff. Carol was helpful in all my enquiries. I am deeply indebted to SADET and History Workshop for allowing me to use their interviews. I take this opportunity to thank my family, especially my parents, Stoffel and Edith, for their unwavering support under trying times. To my brothers, Thabo, Tebogo and Kagiso ninga jindi majita (do not give up, gents). I thank you. Asania Aphane, your contribution has not gone unnoticed. Thank you for your immeasurable support. You have shown me that nothing is impossible.

Finally, I owe a great deal of gratitude to the youth of Tembisa whom this study is about. Their openness, friendship and trust spurred me on. Special thanks should go to Simon Mashishi and Bheki Nyandeni for their keen interest in the project. Thank you, Ma-Afrika (Africanists). I am also grateful to Ali Hlongwane, Ntsie Mohloai and Ntate Simon Ramogale for their relentless assistance. A great deal of gratitude is owing to all my interviewees. Without your support and cooperation this work would not have been possible. Thank you.

Townships of the Pretoria, Witwatersrand and Vereeniging Area, 1988

* Carter, C 'Comrades and Community'

| Table of Contents | Pages |
|---|--------------|
| Abstract | ii |
| Declaration | iii |
| Dedication | iv |
| Acknowledgements | v |
| Map | vii |
| | |
| Chapter One | 1 |
| Introduction | |
| 1.1 Rationale | 2 |
| 1.2 Literature Review | 4 |
| 1.3 Theoretical Framework | 9 |
| 1.4 Documentary Sources | 11 |
| 1.5 Methodology and Oral History | 12 |
| 1.6 Research Process | 16 |
| 1.7 Ethical Considerations | 23 |
| Chapter Outline | 24 |
| | |
| Chapter Two | 26 |
| | |
| Tembisa: The establishment of a model township | |
| 2.1 Origins of Tembisa | 27 |
| 2.2 Tembisa under ERAB | 36 |
| 2.3 Housing | 44 |
| 2.4 Township Life | 49 |
| 2.5 Tsotsis and Crime | 54 |
| 2.6 Political Resistance | 57 |
| Conclusion | 61 |

Chapter Three 64

The emergence of students and youth politics in Tembisa

| | |
|--|----|
| 3.1 Origins of students’ organizations in Tembisa from the early 1970s to 1980 | 65 |
| 3.2 Re-emergence of Students and Youth Politics in Tembisa,1981-1986 | 89 |
| Conclusion | 99 |

Chapter Four 101

The way of the open palm: The emergence of an Africanist youth organization in Tembisa, 1986-1990

| | |
|--|-----|
| 4.1 “Don’t worry guys Azania will be free”: Character, Ideology and Identity | 103 |
| 4.2 Africanist Youth Organize | 109 |
| 4.3 Ideology | 118 |
| 4.4 Identity | 120 |
| 2.5 Strategy and Tactics | 123 |
| 2.6 Interaction with the Community | 134 |
| 2.7 Strengths and Weaknesses | 138 |
| Conclusion | 146 |

Chapter Five 148

To negotiate or not to negotiate? 1990-1994

| | |
|---|-----|
| 5.1 ‘Will the real PAC youth wing please stand up?’ | 150 |
| 5.2 Conclusion | 178 |

Chapter Six 180

Was is it worth it?

| | |
|---|------------|
| 6.1 AZANYU Tembisa branch: The Way Forward | 181 |
| 6.2 View of the new government | 189 |
| Section Two | 192 |
| Proposal for a documentary film | |
| Bibliography | 200 |
| Inserts | |
| Insert 1. Plan of a matchbox house | 31 |
| Insert 2. Demonstrations against rent increases | 94 |
| Insert 3. Students hosting an SRC flag | 97 |
| Insert 4. Way of the open palm | 102 |
| Insert 4. Report on George Nyanga's ambush | 129 |
| Insert 5. PAC poster | 170 |
| Insert 6. PAC election poster | 177 |