

To my family for their unwavering support,
and my numerous “research assistants”

Acknowledgements

After a taxing year of coursework and research, the end is finally here!

I would firstly like to thank my family, for constantly supporting me throughout this process. To my mother, my supervisor at home, who would guide my writing in the odd hours of the night, and was always ready to answer my meek questions about referencing. To my father, who has always given me the opportunity to break away from work, and to indulge in adventures. To my sister, who stood by my side whenever I needed support during this process.

I would also like to thank all my friends for their constant motivation and for putting up with my absences through out the year, owing to research commitments and the process of writing.

Thank you to my supervisor, Sharad, for always encouraging me to clarify my thought process, and suggesting alternative lines of questioning in order to improve my research.
